MILL WRIGHT.
AFTER AN EXPERIENCE OF TWENTY years in my business, I offer my services to the public, to build Mills, and set in running order Circular Saw Mills now in use, both double and single; simultaneous and Independent setting Screw Headblocks, two or more combined and the best friction feed in use. It is operated with a single lever, in front of the saw on the outside the carriage, thus saving one hand in the Mill. The double mill requires about one half the power to cut the same amount of Lumber, as the single Mill requires.
I will also put up Cotton Gins, Corn and Flour Mills.

SPURIOUS SOLDIERS.

Suspicion is being aroused among many soldiers by the appearance of persons in print as officers of the service, of whom few ever knew anything, and that nothing good, styling themselves as of the Army "of the Potomac," "of the Gulf," and so on.—The truth is that the associations sought to be formed from the real officers of these armies have been made ridiculous by the eruption to the surface of sidewalk heroes—by names, Cochrane, Church, Spinola, Sargent, Burge, Hubbard, &c. — of whom nobody knows, and for whom militarily, nobody will vouch. They have quite crowded such modest men—yet mighty fighters—as McClellan, Meade, Slocum, Warren, Hancock, and Hooker to the wall, and have taken bodily possession of Admirals Farragut and Bailey, wholly against their will.

The men we have named, and most of their convivial colleagues, are of those who went into the war early and came out early and with no increase to their reputation, unless nothing to nothing can be added. Their double object seems to be to keep alive the embers of civil war and to celebrate themselves. They are as furious as all non-combatants in time of peace.—The few actual soldiers who have been cajoled or coerced into their "associations" are likely to be careful and speedy to get out of such discreditable company. As to celebrating themselves, that is indeed comical. History will celebrate them, or not, as they deserve, and, as the late Mr. Lincoln said, "will light them down in honor or dishonor." But do these self-celebrants suppose that their hisses at Blair and the gallant men he mentioned will extinguish the latter? Will not "Lee, Johnston, and Jackson be heard of" just as much as and in better light than many of those who hissed their names? For instance, Lee invaded Pennsylvania; so did Sheridan the Shenandoah Valley. The first assailed an army; the second burnt barns and standing crops, and boasted that he "had left the country as bare as the palm of a baby's hand." Which is the manlier and more Christianly? Compare Johnston and Jackson with Butler, Banks, and Neal Dow.—What warfare on women and children and spoons and plate and pianos stains the records of the former? Bah! gentlemen, your hisses are but the anticipation of what posterity will give you.

A CINCINNATI CHAP TAKES A TURCO RUSSIAN BATH IN NEW YORK.

The following extract from a private letter of a Cincinnati chap to a friend describes the Turco-Russian bath, in which he indulged a few days ago. Visiting the famous establishment of Gibson, on Thirteenth street and Broadway, he was induced to try the luxury; but finding the mercury at ninety in the shade, played shy of hot steam until taken by friendly force and shoved into the concern. He says:

"My friend insisted, ushered me into a room not unlike an ordinary bathing-house with doors on either side, and shoving me into one, turned the key and told me to undress. I found I was in for it, and made the necessary preparation. A Russian, in the costume of Eden, escorted me into a large room filled with lounges and gentlemen in the most primitive attire. A flight of marble steps brings me to a door in the wall, which is opened, and I am taken in. The door closed, I begin to gasp like a fish pulled out of water. I am in a cloud of hot steam. I rush for the door to escape for life. The Russian seizes me by the arm and hisses something about having seen girls do the same thing. He conducts me along a balcony surrounding a swimming bath thirty feet square and five feet deep. Still gasping, a refreshing shower of cold water on my head condenses the steam and I breathe again. Conducted still farther, I am showered again and taken into a higher and better room, lined with marble lounges on an ascending scale.

"I mount to one of the highest and lie down on my back. A sponge dipped in cold water is placed beneath my head. A vessel filled with cold water and a sponge is placed at my side, and I am told to use it plentifully on my place. The steaming process is now in full blast. I calculate the distance to the door, expecting to make a rush for it, or to die of suffocation. I feel like a boiled lobster. Discovering that breathing through the cold sponge relieves me, I apply it freely, and a delicious sensation of being cooked through without it hurting me a bit is mine.

"Lying in this state for several minutes, I see through the rocky steam several human lobsters shelved away like myself, while others, more used to the atmosphere, strolled about the floor, getting cooked as they walked.

"My cook, having at length decided that I was sufficiently 'done,' invited me to a lower lounge, where I underwent an oleaginous manipulation decidedly agreeable to my parboiled epidermis. Being thus gravied, I thought I was to be 'served up,' when I was only plunged in the swimming bath and invited to cool off. My sensations now were indescribably delightful. A shower of tepid water fell upon my bath-cooled body, and I was conducted to the door of exit, where a second Russian, towel in hand, met me, and, wiping me dry, placed me on a sheeted lounge, where he commenced a series of manipulations, with a soft and dexterous hand, that suggested a mesmeric operation, from which I arose rejuvenated and refreshed, and feeling as though a very small pair of wings would have been large enough to carry me away up among the birds."

[From the Weekly Sun.]

STEAM PLOWS.

Mr. Obed Hussey, a Baltimorean, was the inventor of the first successful machine for reaping grain by horse-power, and it will be remembered how, some twelve years ago, he exhibited and put in operation, on the grounds of the Maryland State Agricultural Society, the Pioneer Steam Plow. He received a medal from the society, and the following year, we believe it was received a medal from the United States Agricultural Society, at its exhibition at Chicago, for the successful working shown there. What became afterwards of Mr. Hussey's plow, or whether any of those now in use are built after his model, we are not informed. He unhappily lost his life shortly after by a sad accident, and his name has entirely disappeared from among the intelligent and ingenious machinists of Baltimore.

The steam plow is by degrees coming into successful operation. In a late number of the Utica Herald we find it stated that in the United States there are in operation one in Indiana, one in Kentucky, one in Texas, and three in Louisiana; while there are said to be two thousand in use in England, and four hundred in Egypt.

The Mark Lane Express, speaking lately of the trial of steam cultivators at the Leicester show of the Royal Agricultural Society of England, said that "no one could examine the work done without being convinced that the soil was turned up and left to lie under the best possible circumstances calculated to allow the atmospheric influence, the best of all cultivators, to set upon the whole mass, and to leave it after an autumn and a winter in that condition in which very little working by other implements would be needed."

The Royal Agricultural Society of England having appointed committees to visit distant different sections of country where steam culture had been introduced, received from them a report in which there was a unanimous expression of opinion that "by the steam plow the soil is worked much deeper than is possible by animal power, and that by deepening the soil larger crops were obtained and of better quality.

In these reports the experience of several farmers was given. One, on a farm of 300 acres of arable land, used to plow four inches, now, by steam, plows from seven to nine inches. The land is warmer, dryer, and the crops larger and finer. Another says a farm of 650 acres used to require a pair of stout horses to plow four or five inches. Now the drainage is better, and the soil permanently improved with a decided increase of crops. Another says, not only is the yield of wheat increased about four bushels per acre, but its quality improved and its market value increased.—Another occupies 1,000 acres of arable and 200 of pasture land, uses Fowler's fourteen horse power four furrow plow and fixture cultivator. The advantages are, improved drainage, cheaper tillage, seasonable performance of the operations, and increased yields. Still another is enabled to turn up deep subsoil to the depth of fifteen to eighteen inches. He claimed greatly increased yields, one fourth more per acre of wheat than barley.

The impediment to the extensive use of the steam plow is the heavy first cost.—American manufacturers will soon find a way, perhaps, to cheapen them.

JOHN AND JUDGE CANTWELL AS CRITICS.

Some years ago, before Judge Cantwell was Governor of Norfolk, he made a speech, we are told, before a Grammar School in "Ramcat," in which he criticised a portion of Webster's great speech, in reply to Hayne, as inelegant or incomplete, or both. The ex-Governor of Norfolk was, it seems, better pleased with his own speech than his hearers were, for, it is said, he paid for the printing of it in pamphlet form for distribution. Well,

"'Tis pleasant, sure, to see one's name in print,
A book's a book, altho' there's nothing in't."

We hope some "Ramcat" friend will send us a copy of the speech. "Cantwell on Webster," will read as well, no doubt, as John B. Neathery & Co. on Shakspeare."

The Standard, after the "Hon." Joseph Holden, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Director in two or three Railroads, and member of any number of Boards, had got the mercantile mauling last week, which gave him the appearance of having been sleeping en dishabille, in an open porch, with a hornet's nest pillow, was so wanting in good feeling and sympathy as to ask, "What ails your eye, Joe?" Whereupon the Sentinel said, in the language of Shakspeare, "This was the most unkindest cut of all." (See Julius Cæsar, Act III, Scene 2) On this J. B. N. & Co. become critical, and propose, by a one-cent subscription, to buy a grammar for the use of the Sentinel office.

We advise J. B. Neathery, & Co., which, being interpreted, means Gen. Littlefield, to keep their money for the Florida Railroad operations. As they have "smoked" you down there, General, it will exhaust all your big fee, received for lobbying the Chatham Railroad bill through our Legislature. And, you know, you failed in selling the State's interest in the N. C. R. R., last session, which will be the great object when the Legislature meets again, and it will require mints of money to accomplish it. We advise the General, therefore, to husband his resources for the mighty effort; for it will take more liquor to accomplish this, than it did to put through the Chatham bill, and the bribes will have to be raised.

As to Grammars, we have a copy, presented to us last week, by Professor York. We studied Murray, several years ago, but we consider York as far ahead of Murray, as Shakspeare is above Shelly. And, speaking of Shelly, reminds us, that the Standard, since it has been under the control of Gen. Littlefield, has never recommended the reading of any standard work of literature, except Byron and Shelly. (See Standard, 19th Sept., 1868, editorial entitled "Work")

We advise John B. and Milton L. to enlarge the circle of their classical reading, and by all means, to make themselves more familiar with the popular author from whom we quoted, when sympathetically commenting on the Standard's cruel enquiry, "What ails your eye Joe?"

WHERE ARE THEY?

We have asked once, twice, three times, "where are the Penitentiary bonds?" and it is like Glendower calling spirits from the vasty deep, the answer don't come.

If we, and especially the public, do not hear of these bonds soon, we shall be under the necessity of making inquiry of Col. Heck and our Conservative friends of the Deep River Manufacturing Company, in regard to them; for if the bonds have not been returned to the Treasury, some of our Conservative friends ought to know where they are; or if they don't know, they can possibly guess. Sleepy Downing knows where they are, but we have no claims on him; so, also, does Cebe, but he may not tell. The people have a right to know where these bonds are, and they shall know before another moon, if we can compass it. No one has a right to handle, use, or keep the bonds—they were obtained through fraud and swindling, and they ought to have been returned to the Treasurer and cancelled long ago.

BOSHER'S SPEECH.

We are informed that, before leaving Newbern with his militia, on their return from Jones, Capt. Bosher said to his men, in substance: "Boys, the people of Kinston and Goldsboro have been giving us the devil through the papers, and if you do anything I shan't stop you, but I don't advise you to do anything."

At Goldsboro' the boys did do something, though, perhaps, not exactly what was wished, for they went to butchering each other. Others of the Company say that Bosher furnished the means for the men to get drunk on, at Goldsboro', as very few, if any, of the men had any money.

THE CHINESE LABOR MOVEMENT.

The question of labor in connection with the Chinese emigration movement is, just now, occupying a large space in the public mind, and it is one destined to have a considerable bearing upon the physical, if not the moral aspects of the country. That the idea has obtained, with very many, to substitute the Chinese for the Irish and German, if not the African laborer, in the United States, is very clearly shown by the recent Memphis Convention movement and the tone of the Press, both North and South.—The Philadelphia Press (Forney's paper,) is calling for the importation of Chinese females, to take the places of Irish and German cooks and house servants; while many of the leading journals in the South and West speak favorably of the movement for the large importation of Chinese laborers for the farms.

The Convention recently held in Memphis, Tenn., has put the Chinese question in a tangible and business shape. A company was formed with a million dollars capital, which may be doubled; agents appointed, and all the necessary steps taken to bring over the Chinese in large numbers, and to dispose of them to the various sections of the country where they may be called for, after their arrival. The machinery for carrying out the purposes of this new company is already to a considerable extent in operation. Koopmanschap, a German, who figured prominently in the Memphis Convention, has been engaged in the importation of Chinese to California for a number of years. He has a house in Hong Kong for the purpose of gathering the emigrants; he has his ships to bring them over, and his house in California to receive and distribute them on their arrival. The work of the company recently organized in Memphis, therefore, will be simply to enlarge the operations already initiated by Koopmanschap, by increasing the number of agents on both sides of the ocean, and the number of ships for bringing the Chinese to this country, which they will be enabled to do by the large amount of capital at their command.

Whether the result of this movement will redound to the prosperity of this country, to the good of the Chinese that shall come, or the negro that is already here, are questions for the philosopher and moralist. It may be an opening of Providence for the christianization of the Asiatic, as slavery was for that of the African race.

WHICH IS WHICH?

The Standard, who was for Wells before the Virginia election, and for Walker after it, is still at the "anxious seat," not being fully satisfied yet as to its reception into full communion, but, very zealous in "singing the new song," and telling its experience.

There seems to be some little discrepancy in the faith of the two schools of Republicanism, or, the two wings of the new school, if the Standard may be considered as having been admitted, "on probation." And it is this, perhaps, that disturbs the equanimity of the repentant old sinner, and makes it so persistent in its endeavors to establish itself in a seat in the new tabernacle.

For instance: The Radicals of North Carolina are leaguemen. The prominent leaders of the party are the prominent officers in the leagues. Gov. Holden is, or was, recently, Grand President of the order, and all, or nearly all, of his adherents occupy prominent positions in these secret organizations. But the Virginia Republicans—or Walker party are not of this league stripe, as appears from a speech made by Gov. Walker, recently, at his old home in New York. In speaking of the contest in Virginia, and the parties arrayed against each other in it, Gov. Walker says:

"The late issue was not so much a contest as to whether republican or democratic sentiment should prevail in the State, but the issue was whether the virtue, property and intelligence of the State should control it, or the organized ignorance and poverty should misrule it. The virtue and property and intelligence have triumphed. The poverty and ignorance party, organized into midnight associations, appealed to low passions and misrepresentations, and cast their vote for Wells and against the administration."

"The poverty and ignorance party, organized into midnight association," that is, the leagues. The Governor was opposed by this league influence, but, with the aid of "the virtue and intelligence" of the State triumphed. Can any one doubt that the "midnight associations" of Virginia, which composed the Wells party, had the sympathy of the "midnight associations" of North Carolina, with Gov. Holden, Windy Billy and the Standard at the head of them? We know the Standard favored the Wells faction of extremists, up to the election, as its columns will show; while not one word of sympathy for the Walker party can be found in it, until its late conviction.

The Standard had better, at once, make an open confession of its sins, which is said to be good for the soul, and enter the Conservative party of "universal suffrage and general amnesty," by the door, and not try to climb up some other way, like a thief and robber, as it used to be before it began to repent.

ACCIDENT TO HON. HORACE GREELEY.—The Hon. Horace Greeley, while riding from the depot at Long Branch in a carriage, on Wednesday afternoon, made a narrow escape. A correspondent says:

"While riding from the depot in a carriage, the horses became frightened, and dashed up the beach road at a terrific rate of speed. The driver, frightened, lost control of his team, and they ran away. Mr. Greeley remained in his seat. Fronting the United States Hotel the horses sheered from the road. The wheels of the carriage struck a board fence, tearing it up for some fifty feet. The carriage was smashed, and Mr. Greeley was thrown to the ground. Happily he escaped uninjured. He afterwards walked to the Stetson House. The news of his disaster had preceded him, and a multitude of persons met him on the porch.—Hosts of friends warmly greeted him, and congratulated him on his narrow escape from death."

For the Sentinel.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,
TREASURY DEPARTMENT.
Raleigh, July 23d, 1869.

To the Chairman of the Board of Commissioners of the County of ——

SIR:—The Supreme Court of the State has decided in the case of the University Railroad Company vs. the Governor and Treasurer, that special taxes levied to pay interest on bonds authorized to be issued for the purpose of building railroads, which were not begun and unfinished at the time of the adoption of the Constitution, are unconstitutional.

After consulting with the council of State and the Attorney General, in view of said decision, we are advised that the principle of the decision undoubtedly the following railroads viz: The University Railroad, the Eastern and Western Railroad, the Edenton and Suffolk Railroad.

By Section 20 of "An act to provide for the collection of taxes by the State and by the several counties of the State, on property, polls and income," ratified March 13, 1869 the Commissioners of the Counties have power to revise tax lists, where excessive taxes are imposed. We therefore advise you to amend the tax lists of your County by striking therefrom the special taxes pronounced void by the above mentioned decision.

For the above Roads the taxes on the real and personal property of the State are as follows:

University Railroad, one-hundredth of one per cent.

Eastern and Western Railroad, one-twentieth of one per cent.

Edenton and Suffolk Railroad, one for tieth of one per cent.

Aggregate, seventeen-two hundredths of one per cent., or 8½ cents on the $100 value.

We think it best that this per centage should be deducted from the special taxes.

Under Section 19 of the aforesaid act it is the duty of the Commissioners to make all calculations necessary for ascertaining the amount of taxes due by each tax-payer. We think it best, therefore, that the Commissioners shall make the correction above indicated. By employing several Clerks, which is no doubt best, this work can be done so speedily as to involve only a few days delay. The corrections can be entered on the lists in any convenient blank column.

After all the corrections have been made the Clerk of the Board of Commissioners must forward to the Auditor an amended abstract showing the taxes general and special due by the County to the Public Treasury.

In carrying into effect the foregoing recommendation it is not at all necessary that there shall be any delay in the collection of taxes.

The Sheriffs will be held rigidly to the accountability prescribed by law.

Very Respectfully,
D. A. JENKINS,
Public Treasurer.
H. ADAMS, Auditor.

TENNESSEE WONDERS—STRANGE PHENOMENON—A FIERY WHIRLWIND IN TENNESSEE.

The most curious phenomenon which we have ever heard of occurred out in Cheatham county on Wednesday last. The day, it will be remembered, was remarkably hot, so that most people in that county had to seek the shade about noon. At this hour, on the farm of Ed. Sharp, five miles from Ashland, a sort of whirlwind came along over the neighboring woods, taking up small branches and leaves of trees and burning them in a sort of a flaming cylinder that traveled at the rate of about five miles an hour, and developing in size as it traveled. It passed directly over the spot where a team of horses were feeding and singed their manes and tails up to the roots, it then swept towards the house, taking a stack of hay in its course, which it set on fire. It seemed to increase in heat as it went, and by the time it reached the house it immediately fired the shingles from end to end of the building, so that in ten minutes the whole dwelling was wrapped in flames. The tall column of traveling caloric then continued its course over a wheat field that had been recently cradled, setting fire to all the stacks which happened to be in its course. Passing from the field, its path lay over a stretch of woods which reached to the river. The green leaves on the trees were crisped to a cinder for a breadth of twenty yards, in a straight line to the Cumberland. When the "pillar of fire" reached the water it suddenly changed its route down the river, raising a column of steam which went up to the clouds for about half a mile, when it finally died out. Not less than two hundred people witnessed this strangest of strange phenomena, and all of them tell substantially the same tale about it. The farmer Sharp was left houseless by the devouring element, and his two horses were so affected that no good is expected to be got out of them in the future. Several withered trees in the woods through which it passed were set on fire, and continue burning still."

PREPARATIONS FOR THE ECUMENICAL COUNCIL.—Late foreign advices by mail give the following:

"The arrangements of the Ecumenical Council begin to assume shape. There will be a certain number of preliminary councils held, according to the Perseveranza, each of which will be presided by a cardinal specially named by the Pope as his locum tenens, and the results will then be proclaimed as canonical laws in the sessions, presided over by the Pope himself. There will be about ten of these sessions, but they are not to be a 'clerical parliament,' but assemblies, to whom certain propositions will be read, and which will vote upon them by acclamation and without discussion whatever. The programe, as at present fixed, gives for the respective sessions the following subjects: Pantheism, rationalism, naturalism, absolute rationalism, in nine theses; 2d, moderate rationalism, in seven theses; 3d, indifferentism, tolerantism, in four theses; 4th, socialism, communism, secret societies, Bible societies, liberal clerical societies, in six theses; 5th, errors on the church, and its rights, in twenty theses; 6th, errors on society and its relations to the church, in seven theses; 7th, errors on natural and Christian morals, in ten theses; 8th, on the Christian marriage, in ten theses; 9th, on the sovereignty of the Pope of Rome, in two theses; 10th, on modern liberalism, in four theses.

FEARFUL DEATH FROM LIGHTNING.—On Monday afternoon, while the great storm was raging, the family of Fred. Nieweddle, a German, who lives in Purton, near Cincinnati, were grouped in front of the window, the house was struck by lightning, and one of the children, a little girl named Catherine, fell dead. She was leaning against the side of the house, and was more likely to be struck by the bolt. The hair on the back part of her head was burned entirely off. The fluid passed down her body and along her right leg, scorching the flesh as it descended. It tore her shoe, a brand new one, to very rags, and piercing her great toe as if it were a bullet passed out and penetrated the ground.

[COMMUNICATED.]

From the Tallahassee Floridian.

LITTLEFIELD AND SWEPSON.

And so it seems, from their report of the sale of the P. & G. and Tallahassee Railroads, that the Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund, according to their own showing, put $472,065, nearly half a million of dollars, in the hands of George W. Swepson, of N. C., as their "confidential agent," with which to buy up the first Mortgage bonds of those roads, without receiving security from him to the amount of one cent!

Now surely, in connection with what is appearing in each successive number of the Floridian, this announcement is highly refreshing.

Littlefield appears before the Legislature of Florida as Swepson's "confidential agent." His lavish expenditure of money for the corruption of the corruptible portion of the Legislature and its clerks, is as well known to the Board of Trustees as to everybody else. The stupendous fraud and swindle in the mutilation of the Railroad bill, is publicly charged upon him, and as the work of his bribery. North Carolina papers, published in the State claimed as the residence of both Littlefield and Swepson, proclaim the fact that the former has been presented by a North Carolina Grand Jury for bribery. This presentment was made before Swepson sent him as his "confidential agent" to Florida to manipulate its Legislature in behalf of his (Swepson's) schemes, and doubtless by the use of his (Swepson's) money. Is it possible for any body to believe that Swepson, who commissioned Littlefield with full knowledge of his character, is any better than his agent, or that the work done by the agent is other than that which he was paid to perform?

TAX-PAYER.

A STRONG CONFIDENCE GAME.

At Burgettstown, Washington, Penn., not many months ago the streets were enlivened by an aristocratic, good looking, well dressed young man, who immediately proceeded to make himself at home. He treated the males and flirted with the females. He became popular—in fact he became the "lion of the day"—especially as it was given out that he had 'lots of rocks.' He married in great style the daughter of one of the wealthiest citizens of the town. Shortly after the marriage he said he was tired of the country air, and prepared to return to Pittsburgh. He secured quarters at a fashionable boarding house, where he engaged boarding for himself and wife. The landlady was charmed with the young man's appearance, and as he wished to occupy a considerable portion of the house, she refused a large number of boarders, repapered the rooms, and fitted them up in a fine style, with elegant new furniture. Several weeks passed around agreeably to all parties, with the exception that the board bill was getting rather large. The landlady, however, did not worry about this, as the young man said he was to receive seven thousand dollars by a business transaction in a few days. One day he obtained possession of his trunk by false representations, and that was the last she saw of him. Ascertaining that her defaulting boarder had gone to Canonsburg she went before an alderman and made information charging him with false pretences. An officer visited Canonsburg on Thursday, and the young man called with him upon the father-in-law, made a clean breast of the whole affair, said he was not worth a dollar in the world, and had been playing a confidence game generally. The old gentleman thereupon liquidated the bill, and the officer returned with the money to the great joy of the boarding house keeper. How the father-in-law and the son-in-law arranged the matter is not stated, but it is probable the old gentleman has concluded to try to reform the "aristocratic" son-in-law.

THE JEFFERSON DAVIS MANSION IN RICHMOND.—The Richmond letter of the Petersburg Index says:

"The title to the ownership of the Jeff. Davis mansion is likely soon to be brought into litigation. The city of Richmond claims the building, and a committee appointed to investigate the matter reports that it is undoubtedly ours. On the other hand the United States government claims it as captured property of the Confederate States. The house was purchased in 1861 for $47,000 by the city council, with the view of making the Confederacy a present of it, and it was offered to Congress, but by them politely declined; the government then being 'flush,' and having determined to accept of no such gratuities from individuals or corporations, but agreed to rent it for President Davis's term of office. It did rent it, but whether any money was really collected for it we are not informed. In 1867, upon the organization of General Rosser's Southern Orphan Association, an offer was made to the council to purchase the mansion with a view of raffling it off in the scheme. The council agreed to sell, but all proceedings further than this were abruptly terminated by the government declining to surrender the property and asserting its legal claim to it as 'abandoned property of the so-called Confederate States.' Thus the matter has stood for some time. It has been determined to serve a bill for rent upon the government, and if payment is refused a motion for a writ of ejectment will doubtless be made, when the whole question (which seems very plain) may be argued before a court of competent jurisdiction and the matter finally settled."

GRANT'S FAILURE.—The New York Sun refers to the prospects of the radical party and the failure of Grant's administration as follows:

"The republicans will be beaten in Pennsylvania, and beaten, let us say, mainly because Gen. Grant has proved himself unequal to the work he had undertaken to do. Even a change in the Cabinet would not mend the matter. Neither would it do much good, so far as the votes of the Pennsylvanians in October are concerned, for the President at once to throw overboard the crew of his relations and cronies, the Careys the Dents, the Hudsons, the Fords, and the rest of them, for whose benefit he has treated the public service as a sort of captured merchantman, on whose fat cargo he would have his favorites grow rich and lusty. In fact, General Grant has forfeited the confidence of the people, and will yet come to understand, if he lives a year or two longer, that as much common sense is necessary in the government of a country as in the command of troops. He learns his lesson very slowly, however, for in the appointment of Robeson he shows that he still supposes he can indulge the levity of his own whim.—We tell him in all kindness and earnestness that he is walking on the verge of a precipice, and that his ruin and that of his party will be black, sudden, and beyond remedy, if he does not speedily arouse himself to the realities around him."

A choral festival by 5,000 children was held in London on the 3d of July. The performance took place in the open air at the gardens of the Horticultural Society.

The negroes of Richmond are growing rather tame towards the colored men who voted the Walker ticket, since the Mayor has required an intimidator to give surety for his good behavior. The chain-gang is not a popular institution amongst them.

THE CALIFORNIA AIR SHIP AVITOR.—A trial of Mr. Marriott's aerial steamship Avitor took place in San Francisco recently. The local papers give long accounts of the vessel and the trial, from which we take the following particulars:

"The Avitor may be briefly described as a balloon of the form of a very short and thick cigar, its extreme length being 95 feet, its height ten feet, and its width at the centre about seven feet. A delicate framework of light and strong wood passes longitudinally around it, and serves to hold the guides for regulating its movement in their places. At the after end of the frame the rudder is placed—an ingenious contrivance for directing its course either vertically or horizontally.

The propelling power is furnished by a very small engine and boiler of the very lightest weight, and certainly of no more effective force than could be produced by turning a crank by a man of ordinary strength. The engine and boiler—the latter filled up with alcohol—are in dangerous proximity to the balloon itself, and are placed in a niche in its bottom. From the engine, by light shafts and gearing, the power is transmitted to a couple of propellers working in the frame first mentioned, and a number of lines, bands, ribbons and network, all of the lightest material, serve to bind the frame to the balloon, and preserve its contour.

About one hundred guests witnessed the public trial of this aerial carriage on the 5th instant. On arriving at the scene the Avitor Works were found with door open and the carriage just coming out into the open air. The wind was blowing quite hard and coming in gusts; it was found that it would be impossible to have a satisfactory trial out of doors. The holding on to the guys and framework in this wind caused the carriage to be severely strained, and finally it was taken back into the works. Steam was raised, and the carriage, obeying its propellers, raised itself several feet from the floor, and started forward at a rapid rate. Persons having the guys in hand s opped it at the end of the hall, and turning it around, it sailed back. The carriage af erward mounted nearly to the roof with a firmness and steadiness equal to the movements of an ocean steamer on smooth water. The guests cheered long and loudly, and many fairly danced with delight at the success. The trip back and forth was performed several times with the same success.

COMMITTED.—A preliminary examination into the militis murder case was had before Mayor Harrison, late yesterday afternoon, by which it appeared, on the testimony of some of the company, that W. S. Walker, an ex-federal soldier, was the man who stabbed Putney, and that Wm. Bell, a native of this city, stabbed Moss. Walker was committed for trial without bail, and Bell was allowed to give bail in the sum of $5,000 in default of which, he also, was committed to jail. We understand that Walker intends testing the matter, whether his is a case to be tried by the civil or the military power—by a Court civil or a Court-martial.

Moss' condition was represented as quite critical.

ATTACKED BY NEGROES.—As Mr. William Griffis was returning home from Raleigh, last Tuesday, he was beset, by six negro men, near Walnut Creek, south of the city, who, at first asked to be allowed to ride in his wagon. On being told they could not do so, they swore they would, and moved as if to get in. Mr. Griffis drove off, when they commenced throwing stones at him, which they continued to do as they could come in reach of him, until he reached Cook's lane, beyond the Creek. Mr. Griffis had no arms with him, which is very much to be regretted.

CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE; RECENT CASES TRIED BY JOHN JONES, COLORED, J. P.:—1st, Case, Chavers (colored) vs Shaffer, (white) Register in Bankruptcy.—Chavers charged that Shaffer owed him for digging a cellar. Shaffer asked for a Jury which was granted. The Jury agreed on a verdict in favor of Plaintiff, but the Foreman by mistake rendered it for Defendant. Justice Jones changed the verdict and gave his decision as he believed justice demanded between man and man, that is, he made Shaffer pay Chavers for digging the cellar.

Case 2. Two weeks ago, Ben Morgan, (colored,) whipped his wife, and was brought before Justice Jones to answer. The facts were proved that he beat and choked her, &c. J. P. Adams, J. P., who was present, thought Ben had a right to whip his wife as much as he pleased, so it was done in moderation. Justice Jones thought differently and bound Ben over to the next term of the Court in a bond of $200, to answer.

CROP PROSPECT.—A friend, remitting his subscription, from Edgecombe county, says, "the cotton and corn prospect in Edgecombe is brilliant at this time, and better than it has been since the war. The hog crop is also improving, and there is, I am pleased to say, less thieving going on."

UP! UP!!—Since the decision of the Supreme Court on the Railroad appropriation question, North Carolina State bonds, new, have gone up in New York, from 44½, to which they had fallen, to 52, as quoted by last night's telegram. We give the fact without comment; every one can draw his own inference.

THE RIVERSIDE MAGAZINE for July is on our table. It contains a fund of interesting reading matter for the young folks. Its explanations and remarks in regard to the approaching eclipse of the sun, will be found useful and timely to all classes of unprofessional readers. Hurd & Houghton, N. Y., are the publishers, price $2,50 a year.

PERSONAL.—We learn that the Hon. E. A. Rollins, late Commissioner of Internal Revenue, is now acting as President of the National Life Insurance Company of the United States of America, at the Company's Branch Office, in Philadelphia, during the temporary absence in Europe, of the President, C. H. Clark, Esq. Mr. Rollins has been an active member of the Board of Directors of this Company since its organization, and in giving to its interest the benefit of his personal co-operation, and the advantages of his enlarged experience and extensive acquaintance, we confidently look for a renewed impetus to be given to the already unprecedented progress of this great National Institution.

See advertisement of P. P. Pescud, General Agent.

WHAT A WHOPPER!—A friend informs us that the report is being industriously circulated through Franklin County, by the Radicals, that a number of prominent gentlemen of Wake, including Judge Fowle, Mr. Badger, the Messrs. Battle and many others, had come out openly for the Radical party and were warmly advocating the election of Hawkins to the Senate.

We see most of the gentlemen whose names are given in the rumor, almost every day, but have discovered no signs of this wondrous metamorphosis in their political status, and we think we can confidently say there is no foundation in fact for the rumor, in regard to any man of prominence or respectability in Raleigh or Wake County.

STATE NEWS.

The money paid in by the Wilmington Building Association has all been taken at fifty per cent.

The Townships in the different Counties are bringing out their candidates.

HAIL.—Wednesday evening a hail storm passed within a mile and a half of this city, following the creek and doing considerable damage to the corn. Maj. Morrow's corn was riddled, nothing but the stalk left.—Carolina Times.

ROBBERY OF BAGGAGE UPON THE WILMINGTON ROAD.—Suspicion resting upon one Tom Warren, a negro employee upon one of the Wilmington passenger trains, of having been for some time past engaged in rifling trunks, his duty being to a great extent in the baggage car, information was lodged with the officials in this place on Monday against Warren, a trunk having been robbed a few nights since. Warren's house is some few miles in the country west of this place, but somewhere in town were found a number of valuables, including a gold watch, which he had put away for safe keeping—Constable McGee, repaired to Warren's house where he found him, and placing him under arrest started with him to town, but from some cause the prisoner made his escape. McGee, however, captured a trunk in Warren's house which was filled, with all manner of ladies finery, splendid jewelry, and other things of much value, which trunk was brought to town and is held for the present.

It is supposed that Warren has been in the habit of entering trunks with false keys and taking therefrom small objects which could be carried away without detection, and it is fortunate that his villainy has been discovered.—Roanoke News.

Hickory Station, on the line of the Western North Carolina Railroad, is a growing little place. Several new buildings are noticeable, and several that would do credit to Asheville, adorn the village.—Asheville Pioneer.

THE WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA R. R.—A full meeting of the Directors of the Eastern Division of the Western North Carolina Railroad, was held at Morganton on Tuesday of last week. We learned at the meeting that the Railroad grade will be completed and the track laid to Marion by the 1st of November at the latest. Employees are already engaged in laying the track this side of Morganton.—Mr. Hunt's work is progressing rapidly and his large contract will be completed by next September.—Asheville Pioneer.

The evidence elicited yesterday, before Mayor Whitaker, at the investigation of the militia riot of Wednesday last, substantiated the coroner's verdict—"that Putney came to his death by a bayonet wound inflicted by Sergeant Wm. Walker of Basher's militia company;" also, that Moss received his injuries at the hands of private Hood.—Goldsboro' Messenger.

The steamer "Ella" commenced her weekly trips to Nag's Head last Saturday, taking down a large number of passengers.—North Carolinian.

Ripe and luscious peaches have already been in market. This is early for this fruit, but with care and cultivation they could be produced by the first of July. The soil and climate of Eastern North Carolina are finely adapted to the growth of peaches, and we are glad to see a disposition on the part of our farmers, to plant orchards.—Peach culture can be made exceedingly profitable here.—North Carolinian.

THE IMPORTATION OF CHINSE CONTRARY TO LAW.—The schemes of Mr. Koopmanschap and the Southern planters may be nipped in the bud if Mr. Grant takes it into his head to fancy that the law prohibits such enterprises as those of Mr. Koopmanschap. The act "to prohibit the coolie trade," approved January 19, 1862, expressly forbids this business of importing coolies. The following is an abstract of the law:

Section 1 forbids every citizen of the United States, or foreign resident coming here, acting for himself or any other person, in any capacity whatever, to "build, equip, load, or otherwise prepare, any ship or vessel, or any steamship or steam vessel, registered, enrolled, or licensed, in the United States, or any port within the same, for the purpose of procuring from China, or from any port or place therein, or from any other port or place, the inhabitants or subjects of China known as coolies, to be transported to any foreign country, port, or place whatever, to be disposed of or sold or transferred, for any term of years, or for any time whatever, as servants or apprentices, or to be held to service or labor." Any ship or vessel so employed, directly or otherwise, shall be forfeited, and liable to be seized, prosecuted, and condemned, in any of the circuit or district courts of the United States for the district where it was seized, found, or carried.—Rich. Dispatch.

A most dastardly outrage was committed at Providence, R. I., upon a female named Elizabeth O'Neil, by some young ruffians residing in the northerly part of the city, on Monday afternoon. She had come from Worcester in quest of employment, and was in the vicinity of the jail, when she fell in with five boys, who, after taking all the money she had in her possession, shockingly outraged her person. She made known her story at the police station where effective means were taken for the apprehension of the scoundrels. One of them named Mike McKearney was arrested at the Central Station Tuesday morning, having gone there to find his mother, who had been arrested for drunkenness.

A few nights ago the pastor of one of the leading churches of Nashville, Tennessee, brutally beat his daughter, a young lady grown, with a cowhide, and was caused to desist by a couple of gentlemen who were attracted to the house by her screams.

A young girl of Peoria, Ill., on being reproved severely by one of her parents last Thursday evening, immediately went to a notorious house of ill-fame and passed that night, and from there was taken the next morning by two men to the Dixion House, a terrible low place. She was finally rescued and restored to her family.

A yachting excursion to Hampton Roads is proposed by a party of Richmond gentlemen.

GENERAL NEWS.

At the late ordination in Illinois of a son of Rev. Edward Beecher, D. D., the candidate was solemnly "charged" as follows: "I charge you never to forget that you are the son of your father, the grandson of your grandfather, and the nephew of your uncle."

MEXICAN BISHOPS.—The Pope has proclaimed in the consistory the two Mexican bishops nominated by Juarez, and respectively appointed to the sees of Sonora and St. Luis de Potosi. Juarez has become very orthodox, and the Holy See now shows him higher favor than it extends to the apostolic government of Austria.—Several Mexican bishops took refuge in Rome from Juarez on his accession to power, but they have now all returned to their dioceses, with the exception of Monsignor Labastido, Archbishop of Mexico, who, having been a steadfast adherent of Maximillian, considers himself safer at Rome.

THE POWELL EXPEDITION AGAIN.—Another letter from Colonel Powell, of the Colorado expedition under date of June 24th, is published. This is directed to President Edwards, of the Normal University, Bloomington, Ill., and in it Colonel Powell states that he and his party have reached the mouth of the Niutah in safety, having run four canyons of about twenty-five miles in length each, the walls of which were from 2,000 to 2,500 feet high. He is going to Green river in to make observations of the eclipse on the 7th of August.

A French chemist named Fretreau has at last, according to Le Gaulois, discovered the philosopher's stone, and succeeded, by the combination of nitric acid and electricity, in converting silver into gold. Unfortunately, however, the cost of the process is many times greater than the value of the metal produced.

Love Song.

I'd offer thee this hand of mine
If you but had the dimes,
But purse so short and slim are thine
Won't do for these hard times.
I leave thee in thy wretchedness,
As one too poor to mate,
For love, you know, can only bless
When based on real estate.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN LEE.

Information was received here yesterday of the death of Captain S. S. Lee, formerly of the United States navy, and recently of the Confederate navy and commander at Drewry's Bluff. He died yesterday morning at his residence, Richland, in Stanford county. He was a brother of Gen. Robert E. Lee, and brother in law of Hon. James M. Mason, having married that gentleman's sister.

Captain Lee was greatly esteemed in the United States navy, and was warmly welcomed by the Confederates, to whose cause he was faithfully devoted. He was possessed in a high degree of those graces of character which adorn the family of which he was a member. He won not only the respect, but the affection, of those with whom he came in contact, and dies regretted as one of the purest and best of men.—Richmond Dispatch, July 22d.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—Revenue to-day $173,000.

Secretary Rawlins returns to-morrow.

It is stated that Secretary Boutwell will sell no gold at the present rates. Boutwell and Stanton had a long interview to-day.

Arrangements are on foot for a World's Exposition of manufactures here next year.

Over half a million of bonds were issued to the Union Pacific Railroad to-day.

The Customs authorities are not to interfere with the French cable.

The Treasury department has advices that the owners of the sugar recently seized in New Orleans are unable to furnish the bonds required. It is stated that the Department will order its confiscation and sale. The bond required is $200,000. The value of the property is between two and three hundred thousand dollars.

Secretary Boutwell has addressed a letter to the Comptroller of the Currency announcing that he has decided to permit the substitution of 10 40's for 5 20's, or exchange any gold-bearing bonds now held as security for circulating notes on the basis hitherto adopted, 10 40's to be received at eighty-five per cent. of their par value, all other gold-bearing bonds at 90 per cent. The six per cent. currency bonds issued to the Pacific Railroad will not be received as security for the circulation of National Banks, and the exchange of gold-bearing bonds is subject hereafter to revision if it should be found that such exchange is so frequent as to become onerous to the Department.

It is stated that Cols. Ryan and Courrier are organizing a Cuban expedition to sail from Canadian waters. Cubans here have official news to the 15th. The Spaniards have made two attacks on Quesada, and were repulsed in both instances, with a loss of over one hundred and fifty. Quesada continues the siege before Puerto Principe. A portion of Jordan's command, posted 40 miles from St. Jago de Cuba, were attacked by twelve hundred Spaniards commanded by Valmeseda in person. After three hours' fighting the Spaniards withdrew, but renewed the attack the next day. They made three assaults, losing heavily. Jordan commanded in the second day's fight. The Cubans lost sixty-two in killed and wounded, including two officers. The Spanish loss is over three hundred. They made their retreat to St. Jago de Cuba. The Cubans are in good spirits and suffer but little from the cholera and vomito so prevalent among the Spaniards.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

REPUBLICANISM IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

CHARLESTON, July 24.—Much excitement prevails among the two wings of the Republican party here. Dr. Mackey, late Collector leads the native wing, which includes the mass of the colored voters; while Senator Sawyer, Congressman Bowen and Geo. W. Clarke, the newly-appointed in Mackey's place, leads the Northern element. The removal of Mackey has intensified the bitterness between the two factions. Last Thursday, Clarke called on Mackey, presented his commission, and demanded instant possession of the Collector's office.

Mackey refused to vacate until he had taken inventories of the public property, and obtained receipts from Clarke, but promised to make the transfer on the 31st inst. Clarke insisted on immediate surrender, which being refused, he entered Mackey's office, and attempted to act as coll ctor, whereupon he was forcibly ejected by Mackey's subordinates. Yesterday afternoon Mackey and other custom house officers were arrested at the instance of Clarke on a charge of assault and obstructing an officer of the Revenue, and were bound over to answer before the U. S. Commissioner on Monday.—During the hearing of the case, Clarke, with a party of thirty men, forced his way into the Custom house and took possession which he still retains.

The partizans of Clarke attempted to serenade Sawyer and Bowen last night, but the colored Republicans rallied in large numbers and prevented the serenade, charging the procession and capturing the flag, which they carried in triumph to Mackey at his residence.

The colored Republicans bitterly denounce the action of the administration in removing Mackey, and declare that Clarke, the new collector, is a traitor to the Radical party.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, July 17 M.—The Commons on Gladstone's motion adopted the compromise amendments of the House of Lords without a division; great cheering.

HAVANA, July 24, M.—Rodas has issued stringent orders regarding the collection of customs.

The British authorities at Jamaica has condemned the cargo of the Grape Shot for violation of the neutrality laws. Seventy thousand boxes of sugar have been sold; prices unchanged.

The Spanish explanation of the execution of one of the Grape Shots crew, at Santiago de Cuba, satisfies Hoff.

Jordan is between here and Baraamo, reinforced by Tustan's command; several heavy skirmishes have taken place but no details.—Jordan is not wounded.

PARIS, July 24, M.—The "irreconcilables" met yesterday. Thiers assuming the leadership submitted a draft of an address to the electors of France. The address was rejected. The French Assembly re-assembles in October, but the Senate will remain in session during August to consider the constitutional changes whereof sixty-two are subjected. The Senate expects a message from the Emperor shortly.

The Ministry are busy drafting new laws which the Emperor desires shall be more liberal than indicated in his last message.

Special Notices.

"Fresh as a Maiden's Blush" is the pure peachy Complexion which follows the use of Hagan's Magnolia Balm. It is the True Secret of Beauty. Fashionable Ladies in Society understand this.

The Magnolia Balm changes the rustic Country Girl into a City Belle more rapidly than any other one thing.

Redness, Sunburn, Tan, Freckles, Blotches and all effects of the Summer Sun disappear where it is used, and a genial, cultivated, fresh expression is obtained which rivals the Bloom of Youth. Beauty is possible to all who will invest 75 cents at any respectable store and insist on getting the Magnolia Balm.

ÆTNA
LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
JANUARY 1ST., 1869.

Assets $10,462,531,75.
Amount of Income 6,227,071.
SURPLUS OVER LIABILITIES 2,675,999,48.

THE Ætna is the LEADING LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY in North Carolina.

Largest amount of Losses to Widows and Orphans!

The Largest Revenue to the States. And has by far the largest number when compared with 58 Companies reported officially by the Commissioners of New York and Massachusetts it will be seen that the Ætna ranks as one of the first Companies of the Continent. But two of the fifty-eight Companies permitted to do business in New York and Massachusetts had so large an income for the year 1868; but two had so large a number of Policies in force, but one among all those incorporated under the laws of the State of New York had so small a per centage of Expense to Income during the year 1868.

Its expenses are lower than most Companies', and consequently its ability to make and pay liberal dividends to the insured is greater than that of most other Companies. It is one of the great Companies of the land in Income, in Assets, in Number of Policies, in Amount Insured, in Solidity and Strength, in Soundness, Cheapness, Promptness, and Success. Persons contemplating this mode of investment in the future as in the past would do well to examine the claims of all and take a policy accordingly.

SPARKLING CATAWBA SPRINGS,
CATAWBA COUNTY, N. C.

THIS CELEBRATED WATERING PLACE, formerly called the North Carolina White Sulphur Springs, will be open for visitors on Tuesday, the first day of June next.

Being situated in the mountainous part of the State, in a country remarkable for its beauty and healthfulness—these, together with the virtue of the waters, make it one of the most desirable watering places to be found.

The MINERAL WATERS of these Springs are the White and Blue Sulphur and Chalybeate or Iron, and they possess all the finest qualities of these waters, and are sovereign remedies for all diseases of the liver, bowels, stomach and kidneys, eruptions of the skin, scrofula, weakness, debility, dyspepsia, rheumatism, &c.

The proprietor having spent a large amount in additional buildings and improvement is generally, these Springs are now in a fine condition, rooms large and pleasant, and good cottages containing from two to six rooms each, well arranged for either large or small families.

Good TEN PIN ALLEYS, BILLIARD TABLES and other amusements.

FINE BATH HOUSES, for Pool, Plunge or Shower Bath, Sulphur Bath, Hot or Cold.

A GOOD BAND OF MUSIC

Will be at the Springs the entire season, and a good Physician permanently located for the benefit of invalids, who will have every attention.

Having secured the services of Mr. J. N. CANTER, of Virginia, who has had much experience and stands high as a Hotel keeper, visitors may rest assured that my table will be supplied with the best the market can afford, and everything done that will add to their pleasure and comfort.

The cars on the Western North Carolina Rail Road will leave salisbury for Hickory Station, the Springs' depot every morning, (Sundays excepted,) in connection with the North Carolina Railroad, avoiding stoppage or delay at Salisbury, and arrive at Hickory Station in time for breakfast, where good hacks will be in readiness to take passengers over a beautiful, well-shaded road to the Springs, a distance of six miles.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have, and can show, thousands upon thousands of certificates of remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and why should we publish them? Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore the healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the disordered action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or **

The Daily Sentinel.

IT IS WELL.

BY A. B. LEVINE.

The air has borne some tender words,
As sweet as melodies of birds,
And benedictions soft and clear
Have trembled on the waiting ear;
But never sweeter accents fell
Than Faith has uttered—"It is well."

Hope sits through each to-day and waits
The opening of to-morrow's gates,
And Patience wearily abides
The veil that each to-morrow hides;
But whether good or ill foretell,
Faith sweetly whispers—"It is well."

Alas for him who never hears
The words that quiet doubt and fears;
Who, bent with sadness, plods along
With never any heart for song;
Who murmurs, come whatever will
To bless or chasten—"It is ill!"

How dark the night when shine no stars!
How dull and heavy being's bars
When through them Faith can never see
Green fields beyond and liberty!
How sad the day when wailing knell
Is louder than the "It is well!"

As soothing as a soothing balm,
A grand and yet a tender psalm
Is floating ever in the air,
Is blending with the mourner's prayer,
And saddest plaints that ever fell
Find answer in the "It is well!"

The Age of Progress.
We publish to-day, the first scheme in the sale of Real and Personal Esta e—a Company chartered by the last Legislature, with a capital of one hundred and thirty thousand dollars, and with power to increase that amount to five hundred thousand dollars. An examination of the charter satisfies us that the Company is pursuing a legitimate business; they are empowered to "dispose of Real and Personal Estate in any mode or form they may deem best," and "all laws, or clauses of laws, coming in conflict with said charter are hereby repealed." This is plain and unmistakable English and we have no doubt the transactions of the Company will prove beneficial to the property holders of North Carolina. For example: Mr. A. owns a piece of real estate which he wishes to dispose of. He throws it upon the market, and fails to get a bid that would warrant him in making a deed. He then places it in the hands of the North Carolina Real and Personal Estate Agency, at a fair valuation, and the property is sold by chance—the owner gets his price—the Company a fair and reasonable compensation for selling—and some poor man, but two dollars comes in possession of a homestead which, under any other circumstances, he would not have owned.
In fact, we do not view the Company as a Lottery—it is what it purports to be, a simple Agency for the sale of property, for its true value, which, otherwise would be sacrificed.
We refer our readers to the advertisement—the splendid real estate offered, and the other rich prizes, amounting in all to THREE THOUSAND AND ONE—and the reader will perceive, by the simple rule of division, that there is one prize to every twenty-four tickets.
The General Agent of the Company has given us a call, and assures us, that the success of the Company is no longer a problem. In thirty-five counties through which he has just traveled, he represents the people as being enthusiastic in favor of the both as to investing, and the placing of property in the hands of the Company for sale. He represents teas already, before the first grand drawing has taken place, applications to sell, amounting to half a million dollars, are on file in the secretary's office.
We learn from the Raleigh papers, that the ex-planters drawing which took place in the city of Raleigh, on Saturday last, passed off to the decided satisfaction of a large audience assembled in Tucker Hall to witness it.—Wil. Post.
One three cent stamp must accompany every order. All tickets will have the seal of the Company and signature of the Secretary.
☞ We refer to any Merchant, Banker or other gentleman of standing in the city of Raleigh.
